The winners and finalists were selected by means of the annual voting process where the public and peers had the opportunity to vote online.

Thousands of votes were cast from across the country and as a result the TopVendor participants were recognised for their talented work.

Over 100 vendors from across the country were nominated to participate in the 2015 awards this year.

Participation in TopVendor encourages excellent service standards and healthy competition in the wedding industry service sector.

The beautiful host for the evening was MC Miska Patel and the key note address was by guest speaker Aleit Swanepoel, entertained by his inspiring talk and his witty insights as a wedding professional. Congratulations to all the winners!
